

Why Ground Source? From Freedom

Ground source heat pumps have been viewed by many as a bit of a dark art.

In 2019, Freedom Heat Pumps are looking to change this.

For nearly a decade, Freedom Heat Pumps have been at the forefront of providing solid technical support and training for our ever expanding range of air source heat pump equipment.

We are now bringing this approach to ground source heat pumps.

We understand how daunting ground source heat pumps can be, but with the right support and training, selecting and specifying a ground source heat pump system (source and all) should be very straightforward.

- We'll train you on how to install the equipment
- Send us your plans and we'll size the kit for you
- We'll design the ground array for you
- We'll provide only the best MCS accredited kit
- We'll then support you all the way through the installation and beyond

Freedom Heat Pumps have spent ten years perfecting our air source heat pump training and support.

Now we bring this experience and commitment to ground source heat pumps.

Find an easier way to design and install ground source heat pumps.

Find Freedom.
